AUTISM IS TREATABLE!

Learn about the safest and most effective biomedical treatments for improving your loved one's condition. Individuals with Autism are ill with medical conditions that are often responsible for the symptoms associated with the disorder. Whether symptoms are mild or pronounced, in a toddler, older child, or young adult, there are things you can begin doing now, at home, while waiting for an appointment with a qualified physician. This seminar is a must for families newly diagnosed with Autism or families new to the world of biomedical intervention.

Participants will receive a complimentary, signed copy of "Healing Our Autistic Children" written by Julie A. Buckley, MD.
